Current Event Option Name _____

One of the purposes of the current event assignment is to have you engage with the news on a regular basis: listen to the radio, watch the news, read the newspaper. The Internet offers plenty of news options, but it also offers the opportunity for you to quickly search and find many articles on a particular topic. This isn't really being engaged. It is important, however, to become familiar with Internet news sources, so for this quarter you will be able to use an Internet-based news source to find a current event article as long as you follow these rules:
#1 – You engage with the same news site at least five days per assignment
#2 – You document five headlines that you observe on those five days (even if they aren't related to the particular region we're studying)
#3 – You don't use the website to search for an article, you use your eyes.
#4 – You attach the following chart with any assignment for which you've used an Internet news source (you can submit this after the assignment due date).
